

WESTPAY SIGNS AGREEMENT WITH MARTIN & SERVERA.

Westpay AB, a leading fintech company, expands its reach and footprint in the Swedish payment market. Martin & Servera and Westpay have signed an agreement that will make Westpay's offer available to their customers.

- Martin & Servera is Sweden's leading restaurant and catering specialist. They are well known and set the standard within their vertical. Once again, I am very pleased that Westpay managed to attract a customer known for their high demands. I also can confirm that we now welcome the third brand represented by Axel Johnson to the Westpay family. Axfood and Kicks are already up and running, and we are humble and full of energy to enable Martin & Servera in the same way with equal quality, says Hans Edin, CCO at Westpay.

Martin & Servera is Sweden's leading wholesaler and supplier to restaurants – both in the private and in the public sector. They strive to be a business partner that provides extensive knowledge and a genuine commitment to the development of the Swedish commercial food industry.

- Martin & Servera strives to attract the best partners and suppliers for our customers. Having a qualified and reliable payment solution is no exception. Westpay has a strong offering and a good track record. I am looking forward to adding their solution to our marketplace Restaurangtjänster, says Johan Granlund, manager Restaurant services at Martin & Servera Restauranghandel AB.

Westpays offering will be launched by Martin & Servera mid Q2.
