ORTELIUS INTERNATIONAL'S AUDITOR HAS RESIGNED PREMATURELY

Ortelius International AB (publ) ("Ortelius" or the "Company") announces that the Company's auditor, Öhrlings PricewaterhouseCoopers AB ("PwC"), on 24 November 2026 resigned prematurely from its assignments as auditor of the Company and of the subsidiaries Ortelius Sweden AB and Ortelius DT AB. The Board of Directors has initiated the process of appointing a new auditor.

This is an unofficial translation of the Swedish press release. In the event of any discrepancy between the Swedish original and this English translation, the Swedish version shall prevail.

In its notification, PwC states that the reason for the premature termination of the assignment is business reasons.

In its statement to the Swedish Companies Registration Office (Sw. Bolagsverket), PwC states that withheld tax and social security contributions have on several occasions not been paid on time. According to the statement, no other circumstances giving rise to remarks have come to PwC's attention. The statement is attached to this press release in its entirety.

The Company's comment on the remark
The late payments are due to the Group's strained liquidity during 2026, which the Company has communicated in previous press releases. The tax debt relates mainly to the subsidiary Ortelius DT AB. In November 2026, the Swedish Enforcement Authority (Sw. Kronofogdemyndigheten) approved a payment plan under which the debt is to be paid in December 2026 and January 2027. The payments will be financed by the loan from Opera ApS announced by the Company on 16 November 2026. The Board of Directors' assessment is that ongoing taxes and contributions will be paid on time as of December 2026.

Next steps
The Company has no deputy auditor. The Board of Directors will therefore convene an extraordinary general meeting to elect a new auditor for the period until the end of the 2027 annual general meeting. The notice will be published in a separate press release. New auditors of the subsidiaries will be appointed by the general meeting of each subsidiary.
