

Qliro signs agreement with a new enterprise merchant

Qliro AB ("Qliro") has today signed an agreement with a large, unnamed enterprise merchant that operates several Nordic online stores. The deal is expected to generate an annual total payment volume of approximately SEK 600 million. Part of the volume is expected to go live in Q1 2025, while the majority is expected to go live in Q3 2025.

"We are delighted that yet another enterprise merchant has chosen to upgrade to Qliro and our new checkout, Qliro Checkout 0.0, which sets a new standard for e-commerce conversion. The merchant has experienced impressive growth over the past few years and we look forward to actively contributing to their continued expansion. The agreement is in line with our growth strategy in the Nordics and contributes to a more diversified enterprise portfolio," says Christoffer Rutgersson, CEO, Qliro.

The agreement with the unnamed enterprise merchant includes both Pay Now and Pay Later volumes and is expected to contribute with an annual total payment volume of approximately SEK 600 million. The majority of the volume will be processed within Unified Payments, Qliro's comprehensive payment offering.
