

Lars-Åke Norling proposed as new chairman for Modular Finance Group

Lars-Åke Norling is proposed as the new chairman of the board for Modular Finance Group. Lars-Åke has extensive experience in leading and operating entrepreneurial organizations while maintaining corporate culture on a larger scale, something that is crucial for Modular Finance's continued success. Additionally, Lars-Åke brings domain knowledge in the stock market and financial information from his current role as CEO of Nordnet. Last but not least, Lars-Åke also brings operational experience in growing organizations internationally, which is also a focus area for Modular Finance in the coming years.

"We are very pleased to have the opportunity to add both strategic and operational expertise ahead of the expansion in the coming years. Lars-Åke brings experience in several critical areas while deeply understanding the importance of maintaining an entrepreneurial spirit," says Måns Flodberg, current chairman of the board at Modular Finance Group.

"Modular Finance is an exciting company with leading data-based products for the financial sector. Despite strong growth, the company has managed to maintain both profitability and an entrepreneurial culture, which is very impressive. I look forward to supporting the management in taking the company to the next level regarding both a broader product offering and international expansion," says Lars-Åke Norling, proposed chairman of the board at Modular Finance Group.
