

Mycronic receives order for a Precision 8 Evo

Mycronic AB (publ) has received a replacement order for a Precision 8 Evo from an existing customer, for delivery to Asia. The order value is in the range of USD 13-15 million. Delivery of the system is planned for the first quarter of 2025.

The Precision 8 Evo mask writer meets the market's requirements regarding complex patterns for display photomasks.

"Through the trade-in program, we support our customers in their transition to modernize the installed base and secure the future capacity to produce complex photomasks for the display industry", says Charlott Samuelsson, Sr VP Pattern Generators at Mycronic.

Mycronic's Pattern Generators division provides mask writers for display manufacturing and production of semiconductors.
