

Realheart appoints Andreas Hultdin as interim CFO following the resignation of Jonas Caspari Bark

Västerås, February 6, 2024 – Scandinavian Real Heart AB (publ.) today announces that Jonas Caspari Bark will be leaving the position of Chief Financial Officer on March 4th to take up a senior role at another company. Andreas Hultdin will be acting as interim CFO until a permanent successor has been appointed.

Andreas Hultdin holds an MBA from Umeå University, Sweden, and has held several senior financial roles, including as Group Accounting Manager at ABB and Financial Manager at ABB Norden Holding, before taking up his current position as CEO of the consultancy firm Nogap. Between 2019 and 2022, he served as the CFO of Realheart where he contributed to securing financing from the European Investment Council.

“We wish to thank Jonas Bark for his significant contributions to the well-structured financial control environment at Realheart. The appointment of Andreas Hultdin as interim CFO will secure a smooth transition, not least as he has extensive knowledge of Realheart since his time as permanent CFO during the period 2019–2022,” comments Ina Laura Perkins, CEO of Realheart.

The process of recruiting a permanent CFO will be initiated immediately.
