

Divio Technologies and Amazon Web Services (AWS) enter into a partnership. Divio is an official launch Partner for the new AWS Swiss Region in Zürich

Divio Technologies and Amazon Web Services (AWS)'s partnership and the launch of the AWS Swiss region mean that Divio's platform and offering will be offered to a wide range of existing and new customers. Divio will now reach a larger audience through our collaboration with AWS and the co-selling opportunities.

In conjunction with AWS opening up a new cloud infrastructure region in Switzerland, Divio will become a launch partner, meaning that AWS will offer Divio's platform to its customers in this region. Divio is pleased to work more closely with an industry-leading cloud infrastructure service provider in their new venture. AWS offers the cloud infrastructure that we manage and enhance through the Divio platform for our customers. The combination of AWS and Divio offers a managed cloud infrastructure and all the tools and services that businesses need to develop, deploy, run and maintain web applications, leading to a seamless cloud experience.

"We are very excited to be one of the select few AWS Swiss Region launch partners. Our partnership is recognition and proof of the value Divio adds to customers and existing cloud solution services like AWS. We will collaborate with AWS and in the near future gain access to the AWS partner sales organization, which sees Divio's platform as an added value. The cooperation with AWS serves as further reassurance and a quality stamp for our products and services in the market. It enlarges Divio's overall sales pipeline and accelerates all future sales dialogues.", says Jon Levin CEO Divio Technologies.
