"The acquisitions also show an acceptance of Soltech's international journey"

In an analysis from Aktiespararna, they comment on the value of Soltech's international acquisitions during the year, Spanish SUD Renovables and Dutch 365zon.

Aktiespararna further highlights that both solar energy companies are profitable and will contribute to the group's margin from day one, but also that they operate in solar energy markets that is bigger than the Swedish one. Something that both creates a much greater growth potential and strengthens the group's overall strength and strategic endurance.
