

BeammWave Interviewed by Redeye – Continued transition towards high volume products

Stefan Svedberg, CEO at BeammWave, interviewed by Rasmus Jacobsson – Equity Analyst, Redeye, to reflect on the key milestones during the first quarter of 2025.

BeammWave has released its next generation ADP1 platform. Driven by customer readiness for project advancement and aligned with BeammWave's internal roadmap, the release gives a tantalising indication of customer progress.

"The market is no longer questioning whether digital beamforming works – now they're asking when we can deliver at scale", says Stefan Svedberg, CEO at BeammWave.
