

David Lundqvist new General Manager for the payments business Walley

David Lundqvist has been appointed new General Manager, Walley, with responsibility for the bank's payments business that is operated under the Walley brand, starting in the middle of August 2024 and will be part of Norion Bank's executive management team. David has a solid background within payment solutions and e-commerce through Klarna, Qliro and Instabee.

David Lundqvist has a long background within payment solutions and e-commerce. During 9 years at Klarna, he held various roles on a global level. David has also been Chief Commercial Officer & Chief Merchant Product Officer at Qliro and now joins from Instabee where he was Chief Commercial Officer and thereafter Chief Product Officer.

In the role as General Manager, Walley, David Lundqvist will be responsible for Norion Bank's payments business that is operated under the Walley brand. David starts his new position in the middle of August 2024 and will be part of Norion Bank's executive management team.

– Our payments business has had a strong and profitable development over the last couple of years. As part of the rebranding to Walley, during the fall of 2021, we clarified our product offering and our positioning towards larger merchants. Through the recruitment of David, who has solid industry experience, we show that we continue to invest in and strengthen Walley further, says Martin Nossman, CEO, Norion Bank.

– I have followed Walley as well as Norion Bank during a longer period of time and am very impressed with the development and results they have achieved. I'm very pleased to have been given this opportunity and I'm looking forward to being part of and to contribute to the company's continued success, says David Lundqvist, incoming General Manager, Walley, Norion Bank.
