

Pre-recorded statement the 2022 AGM

The statement by President and CEO Henrik Perbeck is now available at www.beijeralma.se

Quote from President and CEO Henrik Perbeck's pre-recorded statement:

"We entered 2022 with high ambitions, but have been forced to realize how quickly the world can change. After the pandemic, we are now facing a new crisis, one that is jeopardizing the security and safety of Europe. While the direct impact on our operations is limited to only a small percentage of our revenues, the consequences for the European economy are currently difficult to determine. We usually emphasize the robustness of Beijer Alma's business model. This robustness – combined with our financial strength – provides us with a secure foundation as we focus on our future growth in a world that is far more uncertain than it has been for a very long time.

Our strategies remain firm: we will continue to grow Beijer Alma through acquisitions and organic development. With a record-breaking 2021 behind us, we are well equipped to handle these challenges, but also to capitalize on new growth opportunities."
