PRESS RELEASE: Qflow welcomes J P Chick & Partners and strengthens our platform in the UK

Qflow welcomes J P Chick & Partners as an important part of Qflow Group. With nearly 40 years of experience, a strong regional presence in the East of England and broad expertise in structural, civil and environmental engineering, J P Chick is a valuable addition to Qflow's growing operations in the UK. The acquisition further strengthens the Group's UK platform and is an excellent complement to the expertise already in place across the Group's other UK companies.

We are delighted to welcome J P Chick & Partners to Qflow. J P Chick is a well-established and respected consultancy with broad multidisciplinary expertise, long-standing client relationships and an excellent reputation in the East of England. The company is an excellent complement to our existing UK businesses and strengthens our ability to support clients in construction, infrastructure and the built environment across a larger part of the country. It is another important step in our ambition to build the leading specialist consultancy group in infrastructure and the built environment.
— Martin Dahlgren, CEO, Qflow Group

J P Chick & Partners is a UK multidisciplinary engineering consultancy founded in 1988. The company has approximately 35 employees and offices in Ipswich, Norwich and Witham, and has built a strong regional presence in the East of England through long-standing client relationships, repeat business and referrals. J P Chick provides services in structural engineering, civil engineering and drainage, geo-environmental engineering with a focus on contaminated land, flood risk assessments, expert witness services in construction disputes, and surveys. Clients include property developers, contractors, local authorities, housing associations, law firms and private clients.

Over the last 38 years J P Chick and Partners have expanded from a single base in Suffolk to 3 offices in Ipswich, Norwich and Witham. Joining Qflow will now allow us to build on the achievements to date and continue growing the business to the benefit of our Clients. My colleagues are very much looking forward to working within the Qflow family and enjoying the benefits of collaboration with others within the group. We all hope to be able to share J P Chick and Partners expertise in complex structural engineering matters and brown field remediation, two areas, among others, where we are considered as Experts.
— Jon Chick, Founder and Director, J P Chick & Partners

About Qflow
Qflow Group brings together the best consultants in the built environment, and together we create a smarter and more sustainable society — through innovation and collaboration for the future.

Today, Qflow comprises 41 companies within the Group, with approximately 1,350 consultants and revenue of approximately SEK 2,500 million. Qflow is a leading player in the built environment consultancy market and brings together leading specialists in the sector.

Our network includes some of the best consultants to create better flow in the construction and infrastructure sector. We do this through smarter project management and technical solutions. Together, Qflow Group helps connect a fragmented value chain and identify synergies between contractors that can promote innovation and development.
