CEO Tapio Pajuharju:

"The car business remained challenging in all our operating countries in the second quarter of 2025. In Finland, the total market for used cars grew, but the growth came from consumer-to-consumer trade. In Sweden, the market declined and in Germany, sales volumes were at the same level as in the comparison period. Economic uncertainty weighed on consumer confidence in all operating countries, and demand continued to be focused on affordable combustion engine cars. Competition remained intense, and continued weak sales of new cars also kept the purchasing market tight. In Finland and Sweden, used car prices fell, while in Europe, and especially in Germany, they rose, which caused challenges in international sourcing.

At Kamux, we focused decisively on the basics and profitable business. Our main focus was on improving profitability through a selection attractive to consumers, active inventory management and pricing measures. In Finland, we succeeded in this, although the measures taken at the beginning of the year to manage inventory still weighed on profitability. In Sweden, we made progress in the right direction and improved the margin per car. In Germany, sales volume remained low, and the result for the quarter was disappointing.

Our strong focus on healthier and more profitable business weighed on our volumes significantly, and at Group level we fell short of approximately 3,800 cars compared to the comparison period. Approximately one fifth of this was due to a smaller number of showrooms in Sweden and Germany than in the comparison period.

In terms of revenue, we were behind the comparison period at Group level, as revenue decreased in all operating countries due to the lower number of cars sold. In Finland, we have systematically adjusted our inventory to focus more on lower-priced cars that are in demand. Revenue from integrated services decreased slightly due to the lower number of cars sold. Demand for Kamux Plus developed positively. Margin per car developed favorably in all operating countries, and gross profit was almost at the level of the comparison period. Gross margin developed positively in all operating countries. The Group's adjusted operating profit increased to EUR 2.9 million (EUR 2.7 million) in the second quarter, which was an important step in the right direction. Operating cash flow improved significantly during the first half of the year as a result of active inventory management and was EUR 14.3 million (EUR -14.2 million).

The Group-wide efficiency program that we started at the beginning of the year is yielding results, and our profitability is developing in the right direction. Systematic data-based pricing in purchasing and sales as well as centralized management of the car selection and inventory are already working well in Finland. We have also made progress in the right direction in Sweden, and work has been started in Germany. Enhancing the steering capabilities of the KMS system is also progressing well.

Our customer satisfaction has remained at a good level: the Group's NPS was 58 in the second quarter and 59 in Finland. This means that we are quite close to our long-term target of 60. In June, Kamux Finland responded to the Consumer and Competition Authority's enquiry regarding the feedback received by the Consumer Ombudsman and Consumer Advice in 2025 related to Kamux. We welcome any clarifications from the authority regarding the interpretation of the Consumer Protection Act, as there is still a lot of room for interpretation in the assessment of product errors. In line with our strategy, we continue to invest in improving customer experience and developing the showroom network.

I would like to thank the entire Kamux team for the good work in a challenging market. We have taken steps forward in all our markets. I also want to thank all our customers and partners, with whom our cooperation has continued to be good and constructive."

In Sweden and Germany, the figure also includes passenger cars sold by private individuals.

Kamux estimates that the market for used cars in its three operating countries totals approximately 8.4 million sold passenger cars annually. Kamux estimates the market value to be over EUR 100 billion. In 2024, according to Kamux's estimate, approximately 680,000 used passenger cars were sold in Finland, approximately 1.25 million in Sweden, and approximately 6.5 million in Germany.

April-June 2025

In Finland, the used car market grew during the second quarter of 2025, but the growth was weaker than in the beginning of the year. Consumers continued to favor affordable cars, and consumer-to-consumer trade grew while the volumes sold by car dealerships were slightly lower than in the comparison period. Competition in the used car market remained intense. The intense competitive situation and weak sales of new cars kept the purchasing market tight, and Finland's lower price level compared to the rest of Europe weakened the availability of imported cars.

The number of cars sold by Kamux decreased heavily, as the organization focused on improving profitability. The unfavorable inventory mix that had a negative impact on sales at the beginning of the quarter improved towards the end of the quarter. The average price of cars sold decreased compared to the previous quarter but was still slightly higher than in the comparison period. Revenue decreased due to the lower number of cars sold. Revenue from integrated services was at the previous year's level.

The systematic work to improve profitability paid off, and the margin per car grew very strongly. Following the positive development of the margin per car, gross profit grew despite the decrease in the number of cars sold. Following the positive development of the gross profit, adjusted operating profit grew.

The sales penetration of the Kamux Plus liability extension commitment remained at a good level. The penetration of financing and insurance services developed positively.

Revenue decreased following the decrease in the number of cars sold. Revenue from integrated services was at the previous year's level.

Short-term risks and uncertainties

According to the Company's assessment, there were no significant changes in the short-term risks and uncertainties during the reporting period. General geopolitical and economic uncertainty has continued in recent months, and the used car market remains highly competitive.

Economic growth in the Group's operating countries is expected to be at a low level in the near future, which is expected to be reflected in the demand for used cars, even though there may be changes in the trade structure, distribution channels and demand across price segments. Geopolitical uncertainties are expected to continue, which could significantly affect car demand and the demand structure.

The Group has in place several operational development programs to improve its competitiveness, which causes discontinuity and additional costs, and which may, for example, affect personnel turnover. The Company's success also depends on the Company's management and competent personnel, as well as the Company's success in recruitment, personnel training and competence development, and in motivating and retaining personnel in the Company's service.

Changes in interest rates will affect the Group's customers' purchase opportunities and behavior, the development of the Group's financial income as well as the interest costs of its debt financing and potentially also its availability.

The electrification of the car fleet progresses, and the share of electric power sources is growing also in the used car business. The sudden and unpredictable changes in the prices of new cars seen in the market recently, which the company estimates will continue, affect the values of the used cars in stock and also increase customer uncertainty. In addition, the repair, maintenance and insurance costs of used EVs and plug-in hybrids are subject to significant uncertainties.

The Company aims to improve its profitability, particularly in its operations in Sweden and Germany, and there are uncertainties related to the required resources, incurred costs, and the timing of the operational actions. If the Company's results do not turn positive, it may have an adverse effect on the company's financial position and financing costs.

The failure of Kamux's IT systems and services to operate as planned could disturb Kamux's operations and have an adverse effect on its business and profitability.

Changes in legislation and preparation of legislation, as well as authorities' interpretations of compliance with laws and regulations, may have a material adverse effect on the sales of new and used cars and on Kamux.

Changes in exchange rates can affect Kamux's sourcing and sales activities and thus directly impact the Company's financial result, and possibly also indirectly affect the Company's competitiveness in different markets.

Failure in the implementation and monitoring of internal guidelines or policies may lead to financial consequences for Kamux and weaken the Company's reputation.

Kamux's failure to maintain an adequate service level or an adverse event that damages the Company's reputation may have a significant adverse effect on Kamux and its brand.

The main principles of Kamux's risk management are described in the consolidated financial statements and on Kamux's website at www.kamux.com

Calculation of key figures and alternative performance measures

Kamux presents alternative performance measures as additional information to performance measures presented in the consolidated income statement, consolidated statement of financial position and consolidated statement of cash flows prepared in accordance with IFRS financial statements standards. In Kamux's view, the alternative performance measures provide significant additional information related to Kamux's operating results, financial position and cash flows, and they are widely utilized by analysts, investors and other parties.

The alternative performance measures should not be considered separately from measures under IFRS financial statements standards or as substitutes for corresponding measures under IFRS financial statements standards. All companies do not calculate alternative performance measures in a uniform way, and therefore the alternative performance measures presented by Kamux may not be comparable with similarly named measures presented by other companies.
