

QleanAir signs a new contract with the German space industry for a customized air cleaning solution

QleanAir AB (publ), the premium provider of solutions for clean indoor air, has previously announced a strategic partnership with German space company OHB. QleanAir has now received a new order to deliver another customized air cleaning solution, a clean zone solution, to OHB.

Under the new contract, which follows multiple orders from OHB, QleanAir will deliver a clean zone that will ensure high technical cleanliness levels to meet requirements in the space industry. The unique and customized solution will be based on QleanAir's modular cleanroom components.

The order value of the initial step of the project is approximately EUR 200 000 and the installation is planned for Q4 2024.

- We are very pleased to expand our partnership with OHB. This new project is a further testament to our unique set of capabilities to deliver solutions to our clients and partners in industries with high demands on cleanliness, such as the space industry, says Sebastian Lindström, CEO at QleanAir.
