

Realfiction teams up with HC Andersen Capital for increased investor exposure

Realfiction Holding AB (“Realfiction” or “the Company”) announces that it has signed an agreement with HC Andersen Capital to increase awareness among investors in the Nordic region. A first digital live company introduction event is planned for January 8, 2024, and this event is already open for registration.

Another digital event will follow later in Q1 2024, focusing on Realfiction’s presence during the CES 2024 week in Las Vegas, USA in January. At CES, the Company will present its groundbreaking Directional Pixel Technology™, which enables glasses-free 3D displays for up to 5 persons (10 views) at the same time with 4K resolution, to potential commercial partners in various relevant industries.

“Our presence during the CES 2024 week in Las Vegas in January will kickstart 2024 for us, as this is the number one place in the world for presenting consumer electronics related innovations such as our Directional Pixel Technology to potential commercial partners and related industry leaders. As we expect a lot from CES and 2024 in general, the timing is great to broaden our investor outreach through this agreement with HC Andersen Capital,” says Realfiction’s CEO and co-founder Clas Dyrholm.
