oodash Group partners with Schweiger & Steinhöfer Tax Advisors to Pilot AI Integration with DATEV

oodash Group AB (publ) ("OODA AI") is pleased to announce a strategic partnership with Schweiger & Steinhöfer PartG mbB Steuerberater ("Schweiger & Steinhöfer"), a forward-thinking German tax advisory and accounting firm, to pilot the integration of AI-powered analytics into the DATEV system—a foundational platform used by tax advisors and accounting firms throughout Germany.

The partnership focuses on evaluating the integration of, among other things, OODA AI's business intelligence platform "oodash" with DATEV. This pilot will explore how real-time access to data, advanced querying, and automated analysis can streamline workflows, increase accuracy, and reduce the complexity of manual processes for tax professionals.

About Schweiger & Steinhöfer Tax Advisors and DATEV
Located in Krailling, Germany, Schweiger & Steinhöfer offers expert tax and financial consulting services. With a blend of precision, innovation, and client focus, they are recognized for modernizing advisory practices and embracing forward-looking technologies. They work closely with DATEVs innovation hub to find new ways of working. DATEV eG is a data processing cooperative with more than 620,000 customers. Founded in 1966, it now employs a staff of about 8,800.
Key Objectives of the Partnership Include:

- Pilot Integration with DATEV: Joint testing of oodash's capabilities within the DATEV environment to validate performance in real-world tax advisory scenarios.
- Exploring Infrastructure Synergies: Schweiger & Steinhöfer will explore using OODA AI's decentralized infrastructure as a cost-effective and compliance-ready alternative for data processing and inference.
- White-Labeling Opportunities: Potential for Schweiger & Steinhöfer to integrate and brand OODA AI's solutions into their client-facing services.
- Joint Research & Ecosystem Engagement: Collaborative exploration of pilot projects, software integrations, and participation in industry events focused on AI and tax advisory innovation.
