

EFUEL signs nationwide collaboration agreement with MECA and Mekonomen

EFUEL is a DistIT-owned company specialising in EV charging solutions who have recently signed a nationwide collaboration in Sweden with Mekonomen Company. Amongst else, Mekonomen Company operates MECA and Mekonomen, who will now be able to serve customers at approximately 170 stores across the country with the market-leading Easee charging box in a package solution.

– We are proud to offer a complete EV-charging solution through MECA and Mekonomen’s stores in combination with our partner installers. We can now improve our market reach and enable even more people to charge their vehicles in a hassle-free way, says Rasmus Bender, CEO of EFUEL.

The number of electric vehicles on Swedish roads has continued to increase in 2022; a trend that is predicted to continue in the coming years. As early as 2023, every other new car will be an electric vehicle, and by 2035 all new cars sold must be electric, according to the EU’s latest directive.

– We are happy to meet the growing need for charging products together with a nationwide supplier. Through the collaboration with EFUEL, we can now create increased accessibility for thousands of people and help facilitate the switch to electric vehicles, says Henry Elfgren Alséus, Sourcing and Product Development Manager at Mekonomen Company.

About EFUEL

EFUEL was founded in 2019 to facilitate the transition to fossil-free car ownership. With a continuous growth and market share in Sweden of around 30%, EFUEL has established itself as one of the leading specialists in electric car charging. EFUEL is an official supplier of charging boxes from the Norwegian brand Easee and Wallbox. Through the nationwide network of installers, the company can accommodate installations of electric car chargers for private customers throughout Sweden and Finland.
