

East Capital Q4 2025: A strong end to an excellent year

Emerging and frontier markets closed 2025 on a strong note, marking an excellent year. Performance was supported by AI momentum, easing financial conditions and growing investor interest beyond US equities.

Highlights from Q4 2025:

- Emerging markets outperformed the S&P 500 in 2025, marking their strongest relative performance since 2008.
- China and Korea led gains as confidence in AI-related growth broadened across sectors.
- Frontier markets continued to deliver solid performance, supported by low correlations and domestic growth.

With elevated valuations and increasingly concentrated returns in a narrow set of US stocks, investors are paying closer attention to opportunities across emerging and frontier markets.
