Bogi Nils Bogason, Icelandair President and CEO:

"I'm pleased to see the share of passengers to and from Iceland continue to grow, which reflects our emphasis on these markets. Total passenger numbers, however, remained similar between years, in line with our strategy to grow outside of the high season to decrease seasonality in our operation and strengthen year-round connectivity. We will launch five new destinations during fall and winter – Istanbul, Miami, Malaga, Edinburgh and Höfn – a favorite destination in our domestic network close to the world-famous Glacier Lagoon – further expanding our winter offering and network reach."
