

Clavister Wins Cybersecurity Contract with Global Technology Provider

Örnsköldsvik, Sweden - 27 February 2025 - Clavister, a leading European cybersecurity provider for mission-critical applications, announced today that it has secured a contract to supply cybersecurity products to a global provider of software and technology solutions for the commercial real estate industry.

This new contract will strengthen the cybersecurity capabilities of the customer's platform, delivering world-class protection for its end users in an industry undergoing rapid digital transformation. As commercial real estate increasingly depends on digital platforms, robust cybersecurity measures are essential for safeguarding enterprise-critical applications and sensitive data.

The technology provider, a new customer to Clavister, selected the company after a rigorous evaluation process of global cybersecurity vendors capable of meeting stringent security and performance requirements.

The value of the contract is estimated to approximately 15 MSEK over the next 36 months, with an initial order of 5 MSEK already received. Deliveries will commence in the current quarter.

"We are proud to have earned the trust of this leading solution provider," said John Vestberg, CEO of Clavister. "Through this new partnership, we will support our customer in their mission to deliver world-class protection to their clients."
