

Ovzon presents strategic direction at Capital Markets Day

Ovzon is hosting a Capital Markets Day in Stockholm, Sweden, today at 1.00 p.m. CEST. CEO Per Norén, together with representatives from Group Management, will present the company's strategic direction, including plans for scaling Ovzon satellite and terminal capabilities. Ovzon's CFO will present a modeling scenario highlighting the company's financial dynamics. The company has recently announced a refinancing solution that is expected to reduce annual interest expenses by approximately 70 MSEK.

"Ovzon is now entering a phase where we are scaling up with a clear focus on driving profitable growth. We continue to experience solid demand for our SATCOM solutions. The recent refinancing, together with a strong order book, create increased financial stability and predictability. We are now taking the next step in the company's industrialization and development, becoming even more relevant in our main markets," says Per Norén, CEO of Ovzon.

The Capital Markets Day will be webcast and can be viewed here: <https://ovzon.events.inderes.com/cmd-2025/>

A recording of the webcast and presentation material will soon be available at www.ovzon.com.
