Permascand joins Hydrogen Europe

Permascand enters a strategic membership in Hydrogen Europe, a leading organisation in the world of hydrogen. Joining the organisation will enhance Permascand's presence in the European green hydrogen ecosystem and support the company's strategy to enter new partnerships, collaborations, and business agreements.

Hydrogen Europe represents European-based companies and stakeholders committed to moving towards a more circular and sustainable economy. The organization serves the interest of the hydrogen industry with the vision to propel global carbon neutrality by accelerating the European hydrogen industry.

"We are looking forward to being part of Hydrogen Europe and contributing to the hydrogen supply chain and to scaling up the green hydrogen business. This is an essential precondition for carbon neutrality, crucial to reducing the amount of pollution and limiting the process of global warming. By jointly addressing key technological and legislative issues we can make a greater impact", said Permascand CEO Peter Lundström.
