

Bosch and Gapwaves expand engineering services in the Joint Development Agreement for High-Resolution Antennas

Gothenburg, May 7, 2024: Bosch and Gapwaves have agreed to additional engineering services to the original development scope concerning non-recurring engineering (NRE) services, as per the Joint Development Agreement (JDA) established in July 2022.

The companies entered into the original JDA and started the collaboration in July 2022. The additional NRE services amount to c. 5.9 MSEK and are expected to be delivered as part of the project during 2024-2026.
