WPTG appoints Seema A. Khan as Senior Advisor to the Board – Governance & Global Public Sector Strategy

Stockholm, Sweden, 2026-02-11 – White Pearl Technology Group AB (WPTG), a Swedish global tech company, today announced the appointment of Seema A. Khan as Senior Advisor to the Board – Governance & Global Public Sector Strategy, strengthening the Group's strategic capabilities across emerging markets and public-sector engagements.

Ms. Khan is a U.S.-qualified lawyer and globally recognized strategy leader with more than 25 years of experience across government, investment, technology, and emerging-market ecosystems. She brings a unique blend of legal, regulatory, investment, and public-sector expertise, having held senior advisory and executive roles across the Middle East, the United States, and global multilateral institutions.

She has served as a senior advisor within Saudi government institutions, including leadership roles in investment and sports-economy strategy, where she helped drive major economic and policy initiatives, including attracting foreign direct investment, developing regulatory frameworks, and building public-private partnerships.

Earlier in her career, she co-founded a fintech company that was ultimately acquired by E*Trade, leading complex M&A transactions and regulatory negotiations.

In addition to her corporate and public-sector roles, Ms. Khan has been involved in venture capital, family office governance, and emerging-market investment initiatives, including co-founding a $50 million venture fund focused on early-stage technology opportunities.

She currently serves in global advisory capacities, including multilateral initiatives and international economic and innovation programs.

Sven Littorin, Chairman of the Board of WPTG, commented:

“We are very pleased to welcome Seema to the WPTG Advisory Board. She brings a rare combination of legal expertise, emerging-market experience, public-sector insight, and startup execution. As we continue to expand in Europe, the Middle East, and global public-sector markets, her perspective and network will be invaluable in shaping our long-term strategy.”

In her advisory role, Ms. Khan will support the Board and senior leadership on:

- Strategic expansion in the Middle East and emerging markets
- Public-sector strategy and large-scale government engagements
- Partnerships with multilateral and institutional stakeholders
- Cross-border investment and regulatory positioning
- Governance Strategy and Execution across the group

Seema A. Khan commented:

“WPTG represents a new generation of global technology platforms built across multiple markets. I am excited to support the Board and management team as they scale the company’s capabilities across the USA, Middle East, Asia Europe, and global public-sector ecosystems.”

Ms. Khan holds a law degree from Chicago-Kent College of Law, has studied at Columbia University, and is qualified to the New York Bar.

She has received numerous international recognitions, including the U.S. Congressional Medal for Service and advisory roles within G20 and UN-related initiatives.
