Soltech's subsidiary 365zon receives solar energy contracts with an order value of approx. SEK 100 million

Soltech's subsidiary in the Netherlands, 365zon, has a new order, an extensive agreement with a housing cooperative for landlords which means that the company will install solar solutions on the roofs for approximately 2,500 apartments on several different multi-story buildings. The projected order value for the contract amounts to approximately SEK 100 million.

365zon is one of the largest solar energy companies on the Dutch market and is primarily focused on solar energy solutions and charging solutions for private individuals, landlords, housing associations and member and consumer organizations for homeowners and tenant-owners. A market that grows every year due to rising electricity prices and a strong desire from the target groups to produce its own electricity.

Now the company has received extended trust from a large housing company organization that manage a larger number of rental apartments. The renewed contract means that 365zon are going to provide approximately 2,500 rental apartments with solar panels.

– It feels very good that we get renewed trust from the housing cooperatives. It shows both that they are organizations that want to drive the green transition, but also proof that we are doing a good job. Now we look forward to helping thousands of tenants take advantage of the sun's rays and reduce their electricity costs, says Levi van de Ven, Managing Director at 365zon.

– 365zon once again shows that their focus on quality and customer satisfaction is paying off. I would like to congratulate the entire company on a large new order that consolidates their position as market leader on the Dutch solar energy market, says Stefan Ölander, CEO of Soltech Energy.
