Gränges recruits William B. Shannon as Senior Vice President, Global Battery Foil Program

Gränges has recruited William B. Shannon as the Senior Vice President for Gränges' Global Battery Foil Program. He is currently the COO of the New York-based Li-Ion battery cell producer iM3NY and has over 30 years of experience within the battery industry and will be an important contributor to taking Gränges' expansion in this industry into its next phase.

Mr Shannon holds a BA in Business Administration and Management from Eastern Connecticut State University. Prior to his position at iM3NY, he held several senior positions at companies such as Heitkamp & Thumann Group and Duracell.

- Gränges is currently expanding in materials for the battery industry, as part of our Sustainable Growth strategy. I couldn't be more pleased to announce the recruitment of William B. Shannon to this new position. He brings decades of experience from the industry and great leadership skills, says Jörgen Rosengren, President and CEO, Gränges.

- This is an exciting time to join Gränges and I am grateful for this opportunity to be a part of leading the company's expansion into the battery industry, says William Shannon.

Mr Shannon will join Gränges on 1 September 2022, and will report to Gränges' President and CEO.
