Sdipotech acquires Rail Safety Systems and expands its growing rail cluster

Sdipotech AB (publ) has acquired the Dutch company Rail Safety Systems, a leading provider of rail worksite safety solutions. The company generates annual revenues of approximately EUR 6.6 million with good profitability. The acquisition strengthens Sdipotech's offering within Supply Chain & Transportation.

Rail Safety Systems has established a strong position in the European market, serving railway infrastructure operators and contractors. The company develops and supplies patented magnetic safety barrier systems, complemented by a range of rail safety solutions, enabling safer, more efficient, and compliant maintenance operations. Its expanding international presence and partner network underpin continued growth potential.

"RSS's focus on safety and worker health complements our growing rail cluster. Its unique technology enhances rail maintenance productivity and complements our existing business units well", says Daniel Unge, Head of business area Supply Chain & Transportation at Sdipotech.

Anton van Dooren, CEO, and Mathieu Geurts, CCO, will remain in their respective roles and retain a stake in the business, ensuring strong alignment going forward.

Commenting on the transaction, management states: "Through our integration with Sdipotech, we gain new opportunities to further strengthen our expertise while expanding our global reach. We see significant value in their resources and strategic support."

Rail Safety Systems becomes the tenth business unit within Supply Chain & Transportation and is included in the business area from April 2026.
