

Hexicon appoints Anders Rössel as new CFO

Hexicon, a leading innovator in floating wind power, announces the appointment of Anders Rössel as its new Chief Financial Officer (CFO), succeeding Karin Ljung departing for another CFO role. Anders Rössel will assume his new role at Hexicon in the second week of June 2023 where he will join the company's executive management team. He comes most recently from a position as CFO at Adverty (publ) and he adds strong financial expertise to the company's growth ambitions as well as acceleration of the project pipeline.

"I am delighted to have Anders join our team at Hexicon. With his extensive experience in different financial roles, Anders brings immense value to our organization. His strategic mindset and proven track record of driving growth will be instrumental as we continue to strengthen Hexicon's position in the market. I have full confidence in Anders's ability to contribute to our ongoing success", comments Marcus Thor, CEO of Hexicon.

"I am excited to join Hexicon and contribute to strengthening its financial structure and growth journey. Hexicon has an enormous growth potential and I look forward to utilizing my experience and knowledge from working with listed companies and to support the company's vision to play a key role in the expansion of floating wind power, an industry with tremendous growth prospects", says Anders Rössel.

Anders Rössel has previously served as interim CFO at the insurance company Howden. He has also held significant roles, including Group Business Controller, at companies such as SCA, Swedish Match, Cherry and MTG. Currently Anders Rössel is serving as CFO at Adverty (publ) and will assume his new role at Hexicon the second week of June 2023, joining the company's executive management team. Anders Rössel holds a Bachelor of Business Administration from Lund University. During the transition, he will work closely with Karin Ljung to ensure a seamless handover of responsibilities.
