CEO comments

Continued positive influx of new customers and a 31 percent increase of order intake for the first half of the year compared to 2023.

Summer is here and we have closed an intense Q2. The order intake for Q2 ended at 1,98 MSEK, a decrease with 10.6 percent compared to Q2 2023. For the first half of the year the order intake ended at 8,33 MSEK, which is an increase of 31.3 percent compared to the first half of 2023. Our ARR decreased slightly compared to the first quarter, but increased marginally the last month of the quarter. New sales are more predictable than before and less fluctuating, which means that we will get a more even distribution of income over time, even if we still have a larger proportion of contracts in the last quarter. We also think that the ARR that we now have is stronger in the sense that the customers who are now coming in have succeeded in getting XMReality into their routines and processes in a significantly better way.

We continue according to the new strategy, and we subsequently see an increased number of new customers and also an increasing number becoming customers completely without sales efforts via "self service". Even though the summer is always a bit slower, during the quarter we closed 12 new Enterprise customers and some new online customers thanks to the updates both on the web and in the ease of getting started with the service. If we sum up the half year, we have thus gained more than 30 new customers so far, to be compared with 45 new customers for the whole year 2023. We also note an increased usage and an increased customer satisfaction, which has led to many customers recommending us to others, just to name the latest example ICETRO, which also displays our solution on its website.

In terms of the product, during Q1 and Q2 we worked intensively on a major update. The release that came just after the end of Q2 is the biggest change we have implemented in 2.5 years - when we came out with the current generation of the desktop apps. Now we are launching face-chat and multi-cam and many more functions that, together with all the tools you already have in an XMReality call, open up for completely new use cases for our customers and a great potential for many new customers.

We still have some way to go until we reach the goal of becoming cash flow positive and in the meantime the company still has a capital need. The board of directors have proposed a preferential rights issue, provided approval at the extraordinary general meeting. The rights issue is secured to 70 percent through offsetting owner's loans, subscription obligations from owners and guarantees. This rights issue will give the company a much needed capital addition to continue moving forward with our updated product.

The company continues to act on the cost side to get to a positive cash flow during 2024. This means that during the quarter, and continuing during Q3, we carry out another large adjustment of our running costs. Most of the cost adjustments will come into effect at the end of Q3. When all the adjustments are completed, this will result in an annual cost base that corresponds to our revenue.

In our industry, there are ongoing discussions about structural transactions, and XMReality will actively seek such opportunities with the aim of creating shareholder value.

Autumn has historically been a good for XMReality and with some humility we look forward to turning to black numbers later this year.
