

Dataproces continues strong momentum in March with a number of new contracts

Dataproces has announced a number of new orders in March and is thus heading towards a solid conclusion of the 2025/26 financial year.

Dataproces has a non-calendar financial year that runs from the beginning of May to the end of April. Following the latest contracts, Dataproces has announced seven new agreements in March alone, which is on par with the total number of contracts announced in both February and March in the previous financial year.

The seven contracts include three agreements within Data Analysis, which are only disclosed when the expected fee exceeds DKK 250,000, one agreement on the KØS platform, one agreement on the MARC platform, and two agreements on the MARS platform.

Dataproces has a transparent communication policy, meaning the company continuously announces new contracts. However, it is rare for at least seven contracts to be announced in a single month, which only happened three times in 2025, where November and December were particularly strong months. In November, eight new contracts were announced, increasing to 13 new agreements in December. In connection with the half-year report in December, Dataproces stated that November was the best sales month in two years. Based on the number of contracts announced in December, however, November's sales were surpassed in December.

Dataproces also announced three new contracts in February and has thus entered into a total of ten new contracts in the current quarter, which ends at the end of April. By comparison, Dataproces announced nine new contracts in the entire fourth quarter of the previous financial year. The company has therefore already—despite there still being just over a month left of the quarter—exceeded the number of announced contracts in the same period last year.
