

VÄSTERÅS NEXT FOR QGROUP

Through the subsidiary Qrew, Qgroup is now establishing another office in the Stockholm area.

The Swedish IT group Qgroup continues growing in Sweden and globally. The latest establishment occurs through a new office in Västerås, where the subsidiary Qrew opens.

Qrew today runs its operations from Gothenburg with 24 employees. The company has had app and web development as its primary focus. The office in Västerås will broaden Qrew's range of services with niche IT services for industrial companies.

Jenny Nirs, CEO Qrew, comments:

"This is an exciting step for both Qrew and Qgroup. Västerås is getting an ever-greater connection to Stockholm. Several heavy industrial companies already have establishments there, and more and more are seeing the advantages of being within commuting distance of the big city. We will now recruit more employees to meet the high demand for IT expertise."
