

Ortivus has received an order to equip new vehicles that SCAS are procuring with new ePCR devices for MobiMed

South Central Ambulance Service, SCAS, in the UK has placed an order for 54 tablets at Ortivus.

The tablets are toughbooks and will be used to run Ortivus' MobiMed. Half of the tablets comes from Panasonic and half of them from Getac. The new tablets will be installed in new ambulances and used to evaluate suitable platforms for future use.

SCAS is serving a population of 4 million people and has over 500 patient transport service vehicles. The value of the order is approx. £170.000.

Contacts

For further information, please contact

Reidar Gärdebäck, CEO

Telefon +46 8 446 45 00

About Ortivus

Ortivus was founded in 1985, based on clinical experience in cardiology, and has its headquarters in Danderyd, outside Stockholm. The company has had a presence in the UK through its own subsidiary since 1998. Through its proprietary, module-based MobiMed technology platform, Ortivus offers its customers real-time monitoring of patients in prehospital care and MobiMed ePR – a decision support system that can be integrated in real time with patient management systems in the healthcare setting and with external patient systems. Ortivus Class A and Class B shares are listed on the NASDAQ Stockholm Small Cap list.

Read more about Ortivus at www.ortivus.com

This information is information that Ortivus is obliged to make public pursuant to the EU Market Abuse Regulation. The information was submitted for publication, through the agency of the contact persons set out above, at 2019-10-15 09:15 CEST.

Attachments

Ortivus has received an order to equip new vehicles that SCAS are procuring with new ePCR devices for MobiMed