

BOULE DIAGNOSTICS ANNOUNCES CEO TRANSITION AS ORGANIZATION PREPARES FOR NEXT CHAPTER

Boule Diagnostics today announced that Torben Nielsen, Chief Executive Officer, has decided to leave the company to pursue another professional opportunity. Under Torben's leadership, the company has undergone a significant restructure, achieved positive operating cash flow, and set out a new strategic direction for its two business segments, positioning the organization for sustainable growth. Torben will remain in his role for the next six months to ensure a smooth and orderly transition while the Board of Directors recruit a new CEO.

"Leading Boule through this transformative period has been an incredible privilege," said Torben Nielsen. "I am proud of what we have accomplished together and confident that the company is ready to thrive in its next chapter."

During Torben's tenure, Boule has successfully streamlined operations, strengthened its financial position, and defined clear strategies for both business segments to drive innovation and continued growth. These accomplishments have created a strong foundation for future success. "We thank Torben for his vision and dedication," said Torben Jørgensen, Chairman of the Board "His contributions have been instrumental in shaping the company's future, and we appreciate his commitment to supporting a seamless transition."
