LEOVEGAS GROUP PARTNERS WITH WOMEN IN TECH

LeoVegas Group is joining the Swedish non-profit organization Women in Tech, further strengthening its commitment to promoting gender equality and empowering women in the technology sector. As a Co-Creating Partner, LeoVegas Group will participate in the #WITswe2025 Conference and facilitate inspirational co-hosted events.

Today, LeoVegas Group is proud to announce that it has joined the Swedish Women in Tech organization, an NGO established in 2014 which has been a driving force for gender equality in Sweden's IT sector. By joining this network of nearly 40 partners and 25,000 members, LeoVegas Group reinforces its dedication to attracting more women to the tech industry and fostering innovation across the business landscape. As Co-Creating Partner, LeoVegas Group will participate the #WITswe2025 Conference, scheduled for April 2025. The partnership also paves the way for recruiting events as well as co-hosted events in the Group's offices in Stockholm, Växjö, and Västerås.

Mattias Wedar, Chief Product and Technology Officer at LeoVegas Group, said "I'm delighted that LeoVegas Group is joining Women in Tech as a Co-Creating Partner. We've had the organization on our radar for a few years now, and we can't wait to start collaborating to empower women and attract more of them to our fantastic and growing industry".

Åsa Johansen, Director at Women in Tech Sweden, said "We are thrilled to welcome LeoVegas Group as a partner this year. Their commitment to driving gender equality and innovation in tech aligns perfectly with our mission at Women in Tech. It is so important that we do this together. We're excited to collaborate on creating impactful events and opportunities that inspire and empower women to thrive in the industry".

LeoVegas Group has experienced rapid growth in recent years, expanding from 800 to approximately 1,900 employees, many of whom are based in the Group's tech-focused offices worldwide. The Group currently has numerous open vacancies in locations such as Málaga, Spain, Stockholm, Sweden, and Warsaw, Poland.

About Women in Tech Sweden

Women in Tech Sweden is a non-profit association that began as an event on International Women's Day in 2014 and has since then grown into a community, a platform and a movement powered by our 26,000 members and close to 40 partners. Women in Tech Sweden works to inspire women to choose a career in technology - and to keep those already in the industry - by providing networks, role models and inspiration. This is done through an annual conference #WITswe, a number of other networking and lecture events, as well as podcasts and newsletters.
