

QUICKBIT SUMMARIZES THE LAST QUARTER AND THE FULL YEAR '23/24 WITH MANY NEW MERCHANTS

Today, Quickbit announces that the last quarter and the full year '23/24 have seen many new and exciting merchants join Quickbit's payment solutions. Several agreements with small and medium-sized businesses were signed during the spring, and most of them are expected to start at the beginning of the fiscal year '24/25.

The full year '23/24 has been an important year for Quickbit. Many new partnerships have been initiated and new customers have joined Quickbit's services. This has led to positive developments throughout the year, especially for Quickbit's flagship product, Quickbit Pay – a payment solution that allows merchants to accept cryptocurrency payments. Many new merchants are expected to join Quickbit's payment solutions at the beginning of '24/25, as Quickbit sees significant interest in the market. Quickbit is also in dialogues with several interesting brands expected to join in '24/25 after a period of preparations and longer dialogues.

“We are very pleased with the reception our payment solutions have received and the fruitful customer dialogues we have had. We now look forward to closing several agreements in the near future with notable brands we have been in dialogue with for some time and where we have a mutual interest. At the same time, I would like to take this opportunity to thank our merchants for their trust over the past year and look forward to new milestones in the coming fiscal year,” says Jesper Sundström, Head of Growth at Quickbit.
