

Copperstone implements changes to group management

Copperstone Resources AB (publ) ("Copperstone") has decided to appoint Anna Tyni as deputy CEO for Copperstone. In addition, Peter Wihlborg will be the new Head of Environment and Sustainability and Christopher Wikman the new Head of Mine. At the same time, Tove Thelin Täckdal, Head of Enrichment, and Thomas Nordmark, Head of Infrastructure, take place in the group management.

"We are scaling up our operations to become a leader in Europe in responsibly produced copper. The changes mean that we are simplifying and adapting the organization to the phase we are in and ensure that we can maintain a continued high pace in the preparation of reopening the Viscaria mine," said Jörgen Olsson, CEO of Copperstone.

Peter Wihlborg replaces Anders Lundqvist and becomes Head of Environment and Sustainability. Christopher Wikman replaces Glenn Nilsson as Head of Mine. The changes are part of a natural succession. Anders Lundqvist and Glenn Nilsson will continue to work with the company and their long experience will continue to be valuable in the work to restart the Viscaria mine. The organizational changes, which take effect immediately, mean that CEO Jörgen Olsson will take over as CEO of the subsidiary Copperstone Viscaria.

About Us

Copperstone Resources AB is a company now scaling up to become a modern and responsibly producing mining company through the reopening of the Viscaria mine in Kiruna, Sweden. The deposit's high copper grade assessed mineral resources, geographical location and growing team of experts provides good opportunities to become a key supplier of quality and responsibly produced copper – a metal that plays a critical role in Sweden's and Europe's climate change towards an electrified society. In addition to the Viscaria mine, Copperstone holds a number of other exploitation concessions and exploration permits in Arvidsjaur (Eva, Svartliden, Granliden) and Smedjebacken (Tvistbogruvan), all in Sweden. The parent company's shares are traded on the Nasdaq First North Growth Market (ticker COPP B). Augment Partners is the company's Certified Adviser, info@augment.se, +46 8 604 22 55.
