Fasadgruppen signs cooperation agreement with Svea Solar

Fasadgruppen has initiated a cooperation with Svea Solar regarding solar panel installations in connection with façade works.

Svea Solar is a prominent company within renewable energy focusing on sales of solar panels including financing and complete service undertakings. Through the cooperation agreement that runs for the next three years, Svea Solar will provide solar panel installations with attractive terms to Fasadgruppen in connection with façade works.

Pål Warolin, CEO of Fasadgruppen said: “Through façade renovations, Fasadgruppen contributes to significant energy savings in properties around the Nordics and we notice an increasing customer demand for further climate smart measures. We believe that solar panel installations will become more important going forward, and with this cooperation we create additional value for our customers.”

Niklas Helsén at Svea Solar said: “We experience an increasing demand for our solar panel solutions and with Fasadgruppen we receive a new platform to reach out with our offering. Solar energy is one of the most affordable sources for energy production and will play an important role in the global transition to renewable energy sources.”
