

oodash publishes financial calendar for 2024

oodash Group AB (the "Company") has decided to issue financial reports every six months from 2024. The Company's operations and financial figures have changed significantly during 2023 and the assessment is that the Company can update the market with relevant key figures and updates on the operations without doing so in the form of full-scale interim reports. The company's full focus is now on optimizing operations and creating shareholder value.
