Isofol announces the launch of new Advisory Board in connection with ASCO 2025

GOTHENBURG, Sweden, June 3, 2025 – Isofol Medical AB (publ), (Nasdaq Stockholm: ISOFOL), announces today that the company is participating in the yearly scientific conference ASCO in Chicago, US, and in connection with this, held an Advisory Board meeting gathering the company's scientific advisors.

Isofol participates in the yearly conference of the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO) held in Chicago, USA, between May 30 and June 3. ASCO is a world-leading oncology conference aiming to spread scientific findings to physicians and researchers within the field of oncology treatment, setting the agenda for future treatments.

In connection to the visit in Chicago, the inaugural meeting was held with Isofol's newly established Advisory Board, consisting of Dr. Takayuki Yoshino, chairman of the Japan Society of Clinical Oncology; Prof. Heinz-Josef Lenz, USC Norris Comprehensive Cancer Center & Kerck School of Medicine, U.S.; and Prof. Sebastian Stintzing, Charité Universitätsmedizin – Berlin, Germany and study coordinator of the ongoing phase Ib/II trial. At the meeting, the advisors discussed the global development program, preparations for the previously announced Pre-IND-meeting with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) as well as the Japanese equivalent PMDA.

“ASCO brings together the most prominent cancer experts in the world, an excellent platform to launch our new advisory board. I am particularly pleased that these high-profile experts have chosen to collaborate with us – all are global leaders in their field and their support is highly valuable to Isofol,” says Petter Segelman Lindqvist, CEO of Isofol.
