REVENIO

Revenio's subsidiary in France subject to cyberattack

Revenio Group Corporation | Press Release | November 09, 2026 at 18:00:00 EET

Revenio Group has detected a cyberattack targeting the IT systems of its French subsidiary Visionix. The affected server contained internal IT service requests. Revenio immediately initiated measures to contain the attack to a local server, working in cooperation with the Group's internal experts and a leading external cybersecurity specialist.

According to Revenio's current assessment, the cyberattack has no impact on the Group's other operations.

The company has submitted the required notifications to the relevant authorities in France.

Revenio takes the incident seriously and continues to take measures to safeguard its IT systems and operations.

The company will provide further updates on the situation and any potential material impacts if new material information becomes available.
