"There is a big upside in Soltech"

In a newly conducted analysis from Analysguiden, part of Aktiespararna, they state that it looks clear for Soltech to reach its turnover target of SEK 1.7 billion for 2022. The analysis also states that despite a tougher financing climate, the target of SEK 4.7 billion for 2024 is also within reach.

The analysts point out that even with the situation with a deteriorating economy in general, Soltech manages to increase the organic growth rate to 44 percent in Q3 and continues to deliver strong growth. At the same time, it is also stated that the share is significantly undervalued at today's level and that there is a large upside.
