Playdigious releases Potion Permit

Fragbite Group AB's (publ) ("Fragbite Group") subsidiary Playdigious is today releasing the mobile version of Potion Permit on iOS and Android.

Potion Permit is a simulation role playing game developed by MassHive Media. It was released in September 2022 on PC as well as on all major consoles, out of which Nintendo Switch has been the most successful platform to date for the game in terms of units sold. Playdigious is today releasing Potion Permit on iOS and Android.

"Potion Permit is a title which I believe will complement Playdigious' already successful portfolio with a kind of theme and gameplay that works well for younger audiences, especially in Asian markets. As planned, we are step by step working on further establishing Playdigious in Asia and this title is part of that expansion. With an already documented success on Nintendo Switch, I am confident that our mobile version of Potion Permit will perform very well with the target audience," says Abrial Da Costa, CEO, Playdigious.

Playdigious has carefully redesigned Potion Permit for mobile, including functions such as a revamped interface, the possibility to save and share progress between Android devices and iOS devices, and MFi controller compatibility.

Potion Permit is part of the previously communicated expanded Playdigious pipeline of game releases for 2024.
