ADMINISTRATIVE COURT GRANTS VALUNO INTERIM VAT PAYMENT DEFERRAL FOR 2021/2022 WITHOUT SECURITY

Valuno Group AB (publ) ("the Company") has received the decision of the Administrative Court in Stockholm on August 26, 2026 to grant the Company an interim stay of execution for the payment of the value-added tax of approximately SEK 21.8 million imposed through the previously communicated VAT decision for the fiscal year 2021/2022. The stay of execution applies without a requirement for security until the Administrative Court finally rules on the case or decides otherwise.

The Swedish Tax Agency decided on June 15, 2026 to deny Valuno a stay of execution for the payment of value-added tax for the reporting period July 2021–June 2022, unless the Company provided security for the entire tax amount. Valuno appealed the decision and requested, among other things, that the Administrative Court provisionally order a stay of execution, without a requirement for security, pending a final decision.

The Administrative Court in Stockholm has now decided to grant the Company’s interim request. The decision is valid until the Administrative Court determines the question of whether the Company needs to provide security to obtain the stay of execution. The Company shall comment on the Swedish Tax Agency's reassessment decision, after which the question of a stay of execution without security may be determined.

– This is an important and gratifying decision and a positive indication for the final review of the stay of execution issue. The fact that the court is now examining the matter based on the complete documentation we have produced is exactly what we have sought, says Peter Liljeroos, CEO of Valuno Group AB (publ).
