Shapez now released on mobile

Fragbite Group AB:s (publ) ("Fragbite Group") subsidiary Playdigious is today releasing popular game title Shapez on mobile platforms. Top rated on PC, Shapez is releasing on AppStore and Google Playstore where the game can also be downloaded for a free trial.

First released in June 2020, Shapez has been highly successful on PC and top rated by players on global distribution platform Steam. Shapez is released today on mobile platforms and made available for purchase on AppStore and Google Playstore, where players can also try the game for free up to level 7.

"As the Playdigious portfolio grows, it is important to also expand in terms of game genres. Shapez offers a relaxing player experience which is quite different from many of the other games in our portfolio. With a 97% rating on Steam, it has had significant success on PC, and since the announcement in September we have seen a promising number of pre-orders and pre-registrations. The theme and gameplay of Shapez has a timeless quality, and I believe the mobile version will have longevity in the market," says Abrial Da Costa, CEO, Playdigious.

Shapez is an independent factory building game in which the players process geometric shapes at their own pace in a minimalist environment. The game is part of the previously communicated expanded Playdigious pipeline of new game releases for 2023 and 2024.
