

W5 Solutions Secures Live Fire Training Contract with NATO Country

Business area Training has signed a contract with a defence authority in a NATO country. The agreement covers the delivery of a mobile live fire training system, valued at SEK 44 million, with deliveries scheduled for 2025–2026.

The trailer-based target system provides military units with the capability to rapidly deploy advanced live fire training equipment at any location. It supports operational readiness and ensures efficient training for modern armed forces.

"This agreement shows how our mobile solutions address the rapidly evolving training needs of defence forces. By combining flexibility and interoperability, we enable efficient combined training across the Northern European region, while supporting customers in maintaining long-term capability," says Toralf Johannessen, Head of Business Area Training, W5 Solutions.
