

Image Systems' business unit Motion Analysis secures order worth approx. MSEK 3 from U.S. defense customer

Image Systems' business unit Motion Analysis has received a renewal order valued at 3 million SEK from a US defense customer. The order covers continued deployment of the company's motion analysis software and associated support services and reflects the customer's sustained confidence in Image Systems' technology for high-precision aerospace and defense test environments. The agreement is a one year term license with contract effective start September 2026.

"This renewed commitment from our customer demonstrates the strong value our solutions bring to demanding aviation and defense programs. We are proud to continue supporting their development initiatives with our advanced motion analysis technology",

says Andreas Ovemyr, CEO of Image Systems Motion Analysis
