Divio is pleased to announce the signing of a project for the previously announced (9/9 2024) health care client with a value of USD 22.600 in consultancy fees to Divio. The project is a consulting engagement linked to the client's infrastructure which will be carried out by Divios internal team. This is an addition to the original agreement where Divio will strengthen its position and create opportunities for further software business with the customer.

"We are happy that our clients, once again, put their trust in our team and appoint us to deliver this project. Due to the nature of the agreement, we are not surprised that these types of assignments will come over time and we expect more during the upcoming year. It helps us strengthen the collaboration with our client as we both have the capacity and know how on how to execute efficiently on the task" says Jon Levin, CEO Divio Technologies.
