Enea Awarded Traffic Management Contract Worth USD 1.8 Million

Enea has signed a traffic management contract with a new government customer in Asia. The customer will implement a solution based on the Enea Integra Traffic Management Platform and the company's powerful technology, with the purpose of protecting public interest in terms of a reliable and secure mobile network infrastructure.

"We are honored to have gained the confidence of this government customer," says Teemu Salmi, President and CEO at Enea. "Mobile networks are critical infrastructure, and our vision is to make the world's communication safer and more efficient. One important part of our strategy is to grow within the government vertical, and this deal is another testimony of our relevance and importance in that sector."

The total estimated value of the contract is USD 1.8 million over one year and USD 1.3 million will be recognized as revenue in the second quarter of 2026. In addition to software licenses, the scope of the contract also covers training, implementation, technical support, and maintenance. The deal is included in Enea's second quarter business development and in line with previously communicated expectations.
