Zordix launches brand new IP in God of Rock

Walnut Creek, Calif. (August 24, 2022) – Video game publisher Modus Games, the Zordix inhouse AA publishing label, revealed at Gamescom today the next step forward for fighting games: rhythm-based attacks from the most powerful musicians on the planet. Developed internally by Modus Studios, God Of Rock is a brand-new IP that brings music and combat together, creating an original fighting game experience.

God Of Rock is available to wishlist on Steam now and arrives on PC, Nintendo Switch, PlayStation 5, PlayStation 4, Xbox X|S and Xbox One this winter: https://store.steampowered.com/app/1851030/God_of_Rock/

Check out a sample of the action in today's reveal trailer here: <https://youtu.be/yRAww8VRcBU>

Face off against your opponent as one of the universe's greatest talents, and with the power of your righteous beats, blast them into orbit. You and your enemy will face each other like in any other fighting game, but the actual battle will be driven by rhythm game mechanics. As battles continue and health bars wear down, the beat will pick up. Keep up with the music, or your attacks will miss their mark. Lose your groove and be the first to fall.
