NIMBUS IN FOCUS AT THIS YEAR'S STRONG PRODUCT LINEUP FROM NIMBUS GROUP AT BOOT DÜSSELDORF

When the world's largest indoor boat show, Boot Düsseldorf, opens this weekend, Nimbus Group will focus on strong product news from the Nimbus brand. In the booth, the Nimbus C12, T12, and W12 from the new 12 series will premiere, and in addition, the Nimbus 495 Flybridge, Nimbus 365 Coupé, Nimbus 305 Coupé, Nimbus T9, and a Nimbus T8 will also be on display. Alongside the boats shown in the booth, more details and information will be released about the upcoming new Nimbus 495 Coupé.

"We are sharpening our participation to focus on the Nimbus brand, which will showcase a very strong product lineup," says Johan Inden, CEO of Nimbus Group.

Nimbus's new WTC 12 series was launched in November last year, and at this year's Boot Düsseldorf, finished boats from the new series will be shown live for the first time in the Weekender (W), Tender (T), and Coupé (C) versions. The 12 series is an updated successor to the successful WTC 11 series. The new boats feature extensive design changes and improvements aimed at further strengthening Nimbus Group's and the Nimbus brand's position in the prioritized premium segment.

The fact that the Nimbus 12 series can be configured as a Weekender, Tender, or Commuter means that the series meets the diverse needs and preferences of different customer groups within the segment. Building on the award-winning design introduced with the WTC 11 series, it preserves the seakeeping qualities and the Scandinavian design philosophy that have defined the series since its introduction. With a wide range of improvements, the 12 series represent an evolution with the goal of giving customers more of everything they already appreciate.

In early January, Nimbus Group announced that the flagship Nimbus 495 will also be produced in a coupé version, the Nimbus 495 Coupé, with deliveries starting in 2027. At Boot Düsseldorf, Nimbus Group will present the new Nimbus 495 Coupé in more detail. By offering a coupé version as well, Nimbus Group broadens the potential market for the boat.

"With our new and significantly strengthened lineup, we are ready to meet the market with one of our most attractive and thoroughly developed product portfolios to date. By bringing together the entire Nimbus offering—from our latest models to established favorites—we can showcase both the breadth and the innovative strength of our portfolio. We enter the show with great energy and positive expectations that our offering will be well received by both customers and partners. We look forward to welcoming and meeting both new and returning customers," says Johan Inden.
